Lonergan University College
announces a Public Lecture

RENAISSANCE OR MODERN AGE?

The Beginning of the Gutenberg Galaxy

by Renato Barilli

University of Bologna

Professor Barilli, an art historian, is one of Italy's outstanding scholars in the fields of aesthetics and semiotics. A former curator of the Biennale di Venezia, he is a columnist for the prestigious daily Corriere della Sera, and author of many books on literature, the visual arts and philosophy.

Illustration from De Humani Corporis Fabrica by Flemish anatomist Andreas Vesalius

Thursday, October 15, 3:30 p.m.

Lonergan College, Loyola Campus
7302 Sherbrooke St./ West Broadway
Telephone: 848-2280

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

Real education for the real world
www.concordia.ca